ANNOUNCEMENT:
KEGS Foundation Geophysics Scholarships
APRIL 30, 2017 DEADLINE

KEGS FOUNDATION * FONDATION KEGS
A bridge to the future * Un pont vers l’avenir

The KEGS Foundation, now in its seventeenth year of supporting students in geophysics at Canadian colleges and universities, is pleased to announce it expects to offer up to fifteen scholarships for the academic year 2017/2018. Scholarships range in value up to $2000, with the additional benefits of free participation in the very educational KEGS Symposium and Breakfast during the PDAC Convention.

Interested undergraduate students pursuing a degree in geophysics or a closely related field at a Canadian college or university, as well as graduate students facing special challenges, are encouraged to apply by submitting an application to the Foundation, no later than April 30. Application forms (and related information) are available on the Foundation’s website, www.kegsfoundation.org. We prefer that required documents and reference letters be submitted by email at info@kegsfoundation.org.
